Club Code Of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) ensures fair treatment and opportunity for all. It aims to eradicate prejudice and discrimination on the basis of an individual or group of individuals' protected characteristics.

BaseballSoftball UK takes seriously its role in recognising and removing any barriers faced by people involved or wanting to be involved in our sports, in any capacity, to ensure the culture of our sports are improved to one that values diversity and enables the full involvement of disadvantaged groups in every aspect of our sports.

(please see the equality, diversion and inclusion (EDI) policy for further detail)

Club Code of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour - Introduction

What is the Club Code of Conduct Ethics and Behaviour?

BaseballSoftball UK's Club Code of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour (the code) exists to protect everyone within the game and outlines the behaviour expected from all people within the baseball/Softball Family in England.

BSUK is responsible for setting the standards and values that apply at every level. This Code encapsulates all of the sporting, moral and ethical principles that baseball and softball represents.

We think of baseball and softball as a sport for all. A family sport packed with passion, speed, skill and respect.

One that anyone can enjoy however they choose to participate – as a player, umpire, volunteer or a parent supporting on the side-lines. However you choose to be involved in the game, you have a right to do it with enjoyment.

Does the Code apply to me?

Yes! If you are involved at any level in the game, then the Code applies to you.

Although we are responsible for setting the standards, everyone involved in baseball and softball has a responsibility to promote the sport, making sure that there is equal access and opportunity for all, and that fairness and respect is upheld.

This Code allows BSUK to uphold the values that we all believe in as a sport and gives us a mechanism to deal with any breaches with a consistent approach.

What is the purpose of the Code?

By sharing this code across the sport, we believe that we can uphold the highest standards of integrity and ensure that the reputation of the sport is, and remains, at a high level. We believe that its content will contribute to our vision and our mission.

What do we mean when we say...

For the purposes of clarification, we have explained some of the terms we refer to throughout the code:

1. The Baseball/Softball Community:

This means everyone involved in the sports of baseball/softball at all levels of the game. It includes all individuals, affiliated bodies, clubs, associations and other organisations involved in any capacity in the game of baseball and softball – whether or not they are members of BBF/BSF or BSUK's Development Charter. For the avoidance of doubt, this includes all players and anyone working within baseball and softball (in a paid or voluntary capacity or whether they are an employee or are self-employed or working on any other basis). It includes all coaches, umpires, other officials.

2. Conflicts and declarations of interest:

If you have several interests, you are advised to declare such interests when accepting appointments. You should then conduct yourself professionally, never allowing such interests to cause a conflict in the role in hand.

3. Young People:

There are many references to young people within this document and we define young people as persons under the age of 18. It is important to remember that while some of the codes give guidance for activity that is exclusively for young people, most senior baseball/softball teams also include young people.

4. Suitably insured:

BSUK provides guidance on suitable insurance for different individuals and groups as referenced in this document. This information is available on the BSUK website.

5. Expected minimum standards of behaviour and conduct:

The examples given in each code of behaviour are not exhaustive but are examples of behaviour that is or is not acceptable.

6. Code of Ethics and Behaviour:

The document that sets out the philosophy and expected levels of behaviour for everyone involved in Baseball and Softball

7. Regulations:

The sets of rules that are used to deal with breaches of the Club Code of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour. There are four different types of Regulations, the one used, depends on the nature of the breach.

How to use the Club Code of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour

There is a generic element within the Club Code of Conduct, Ethics and Behaviour which relates to everyone within the sport. If you have a voluntary or paid role, or you participate in a role which does not refer to you specifically, then the generic Code of Behaviour applies to you. There are some specific roles within the sport for which we have provided additional guidance. You should find the specific Codes of Behaviour that relates to your roles.

Reporting procedures and dealing with breaches

It is important that unacceptable behaviour is dealt with quickly and appropriately.

Therefore, it is essential that people know where to go if they want to report a concern or incident.

Clubs and associations should use their own procedures for informal resolutions on low-level concerns.

More serious incidents should be reported to BBF,BSF or BSUK immediately.

Incidents can be reported online by using the link below, or via the BSUK website.

<https://share-eu1.hsforms.com/12ZGdA-b1TA2KseX1BHGV2Qf7232>

The British Softball Federation (BSF), BaseballSoftball UK (BSUK) and individual leagues, clubs, teams and other affiliated organisations will supplement this Code with their own more detailed codes and policies as appropriate.
